'Beauty Is Our Business'

Petite Beauty Salon Completely Redecorated

Lolita Stedman has made Sierra Madre her home for the past fifteen years. For that same amount of time, she has been the owner-operator of one of this community's better known beauty salons, Petite Beauty Salon, located at 185 West Sierra Madre Boulevard.

The enthusiastic Mrs. Stedman knows that no matter what the current trends in hair styles and fashions, there are still those discerning women who have their own ideas and she maintains an experienced and versatile staff to meet all beauty demands. For this same reason, the salon offers patrons a complete line of service from pedicures, manicures, permanents, to styling and cutting. The receptionist for nearly two years, a lovely girl by the name of Louise, and also a beauty operator, has eight years experience in Hair Design. She is exceptionally helpful in selecting the proper wigs and wig styles for interested ladies. It should be mentioned that while the Salon services and sells all hair goods any type of hair piece needed can be specially ordered. A complete line of Yardley cosmetics is carried for the convenience and beauty care of the customer.

Complete redecorating has been completed, carpeting and a 7 ton refrigeration unit installed. A lovely hand-painted mural, by a well known Hollywood artist, decorates one wall of the restful waiting room. To the right, as one enters the salon, is a decorative gold circular staircase with sev-

City Council Must Get Ball Rolling To Provide Citizens With Protection

The most dastardly fire in the past eight years hit your Sierra Madre Volunteer Firefighters when they answered an alarm at 9:49 Wednesday evening to a brush fire up the Chantry Flats road approximately one and a half miles.

Engine 424 with a crew of eight men answered the alarm and were at the foot of the fire in 5 minutes and 39 seconds to find the entire hillside ablaze.

Laying lines, ordering the City-owned 1500 gallon water truck into service, Engine 424 pumped continuously for 6 hours and 47 minutes pumping 22,300 gallons of water to the Forest Service and County crews on the Fire line.

Using all the knowledge available, all Firefighters applied their skills to stop the blaze from going over the hill, but it had too great of a start and crested within the hour, going over the top into the hillside and Little Santa Anita Canyon.

Engine 425 was called into service and was stationed at the dam site in the Canyon area. Engine 423 and crew stood by at the station in the event of another fire.

Truck 421, 422 and Car 426 were in service running crews, information and equipment, with an engine from Arcadia stationed on standby at the end of Stonehouse road. Three other engines from Arcadia and several of the county also responded and pumped water to the northern perimeter of the fire line.

At the hour of 6 a.m. Thursday morning morning Fire Chief Charles Brown gave the order to evacuate the lower canyon, which was done by the Sierra Madre Police Department, who had called in every off duty man as well as their reserves, who blocked off streets and assisted with the traffic.

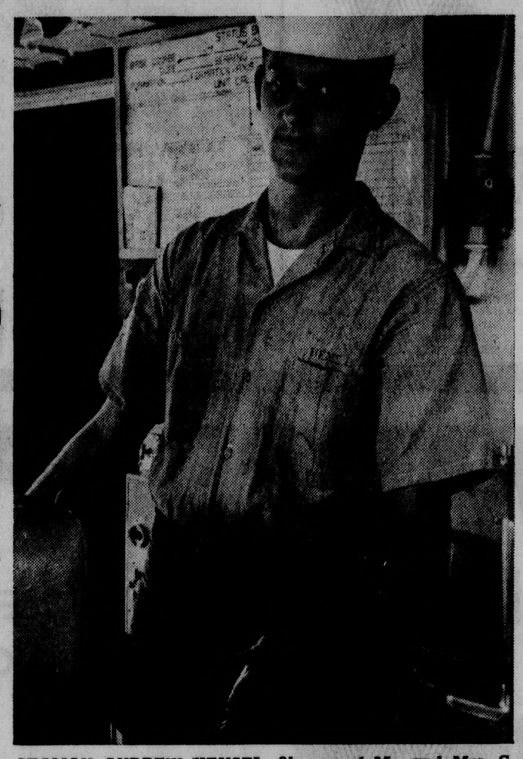

Twenty-four Regular Firefighters and two Reserves answered the alarm and were on the fireline or on standby for a total of 15 hours and 26 minutes, given temporary relief by Chief Charles Brown at 12:15 Thursday afternoon, and then completely released at 1:55.

The Firefighters' wives prepared sandwiches and coffee throughout the night and kept the men supplied with necessary items to make their job as easy as possible.

Roberts Property Options Expired Midnight, Sept. 11, Others Oct. 1.

Roberts Market will stay in Sierra Madre; at least for the time being or until such time as they may decide to do otherwise. This was the decision by the Sierra Madre City Council last Thursday night as they turned down a Variance in parking which had been applied for by the Duckett - Wilson Development Company, by a vote of 3 to 2.

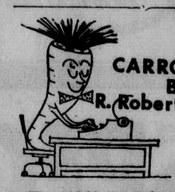

Everything had been passed previous to this meeting including the re-zoning which became legal on September 12 at the hour of 5 p.m., the alley easement, and the schematic plot plan and the Variance in Parking and the exchange of the parking lot was all that remained to be hashed out to make the Roberts Market a thing of the past in Sierra Madre.

Those in attendance were very much surprised as were those that heard of the situation later. Up until this time the feeling was that the Council was split 3 to 2 in favor of the package. Mayor Hartman and Councilman Rudolph showed indications of being in disfavor with Councilmen Simons, Rule and Nickoloff being in favor.

Councilman Nickoloff was late to the meeting, but upon entry stated that it was not necessary to review the happenings because he was against the proposition.

Further discussion ensued and when the motion was made to adopt the Resolution in parking spaces it was NOT ADOPTED by a vote of 3 to 2, Hartman, Rudolph and Nickoloff vot-

SPECIAL MEETING

Since this article was written, a special meeting of the City Council was called by Mayor Hartman to reconsider the vote taken on the Variance.

Although the Options on the property were expended as of midnight Thursday, September 11, there is a point in the law that states that should negotiation still be in progress at the time of the expiration of the options that the options shall continue. With this thought in mind the Special meeting was called so that negotiations would be in progress, and those unanswered questions might be answered for the Council and the vote changed in favor of the development. The meeting will be Wednesday, September 17, at the hour of 7:30. We are wondering now if the vote will be changed and the development allowed to progress.

The 1969-70 School Year is now three days underway with children darting from pillar to post, with very little thought except to either get to school or return home in the afternoon. This is the time of the year beyond all, that we should do the thinking for your children and mine.

— CT —

It was in the year 1964 that we had the tragic death at Sunnyside and Sierra Madre Blvd. and the injury of two other school children. Until this year we have been fatality free, having our record marred this year by two adult traffic deaths.

— CT —

"Fender Bender" traffic accidents are up over 100 per cent to the previous year, indicating that as drivers, we are becoming more unaware and relaxed in our driving habits, we now must tighten our alertness, your children and mine are going back and forth to school, some four times a day others twice.

— CT —

Many of our children are attending school for their first year, and although they are brought to school by their parents or attendant and likewise picked up at the end of the session, they become excited and can easily dart from the curb or from behind a car to greet one of their school pals and run right in the path of your auto. Time of alertness, is ALWAYS, but put special emphasis on week day time from 7 a.m. till 4 p.m. it will pay all of us great dividends.

— CT —

Although it was a very unpleasant day last Thursday, spending it in court as a plaintiff, I did hear one very interesting case, and it has changed my thinking somewhat on the old saying that two wrongs do not make a right . . .

— CT —

The man was in court charged with using counterfeit money to pay a bill. At his hearing, the defendant pleaded that he did not know the money was phony. The Judge pressed for proof and he blurted out, "Because I stole it. Would I be stealing money if I knew it was counterfeit?"

— CT —

The judge pondered the statement for several minutes, and thinking that it was a good sensible answer tossed out the counterfeit charge. But immediately he substituted a new charge against the defendant, that of "theft."

— CT —

"Sure" stated the defendant, "I stole the money," and was very conceited, as he continued, "but counterfeit money has no legal value. Since when is it a crime to steal absolutely nothing?"

— CT —

The judge nor anyone else could find any flaws in his logic, so the man went scot free. All of which shows that two wrongs . . . if the breaks are with you . . . can make a right . . . never heard anything like this before.

— CT —

While I was waiting for the judge to come out of his chambers, I was discussing lifes small problems with another unfortunate man

Built In 1929 — A Memory Now

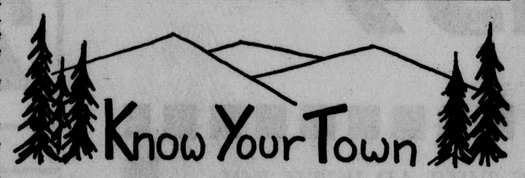

Remember the Canyon Pool In Its Real Heyday?

Scheduled to open its doors to the public at an earlier date the Sierra Madre Canyon Plunge actually, formally opened on Wednesday, July 3rd, 1929. The delay in opening was caused by the enclosing fence not yet being up, thus making insurance coverage impossible.

The Canyon Plunge, built by the city with special area taxes, boasted a rustic setting with approximately 175,000 gallons of cool (more like ice cold if my memory serves me correct), clear sparkling water and a separate wading pool for the small children. With strict rules, standards and maintenance, Mrs. James C. Heasley and the late Mr. Heasley, who obtained the lease from the city, ran the pool, bath house and concession until September of 1942.

Anxiously awaited by many, opening day of the plunge saw hordes of children waiting to enter the pool when the bath house opened at 10 a.m, on Wednesday, July 3. The whole day was "free swims for all," Mrs. Heasley and her corps of helpers were extremely busy giving out bathing suits and renting lockers. The bath house concession, with soft drinks, ice cream and candy, was naturally a very popular item. If you planned an all day swim, then you very probably would bring your sack lunch and then when swimming had worked up a tremendous appetite there was

This is a non-partisan service of the Sierra Madre Unit of the League of Women Voters. Please send your questions to KNOW YOUR TOWN, BOX 674, SIERRA MADRE 91024.

Q. Please give a little information on the League of Women Voters.

A: The League of Women Voters operates on two separate levels, for the community and for the individual citizen.

The community effort is the Voters Service arm of the League, which prepares and distributes non-partisan, factual information on the structure and function of government, on voting procedures, election issues, and candidates. This KNOW YOUR TOWN is part of the Voters Service. A public meeting on the local issues involved in the November 4 election will be sponsored by the Sierra Madre Unit. Many registrar of voters are among the members in our unit who are glad to be of service to those citizens who may need to register or re-register for an election. The second part of the League Program gives individual women citizens an opportunity for sustained study of current governmental problems. Issues are chosen by the members and, if consensus is achieved after study, members may take a concerted action on such issues. Throughout the year committees make studies in all levels of government which are then brought before each individual unit for discussion and consensus. This year the local study for our Sierra Madre Unite is stated: Support the strong and effective masterplan for Sierra Madre and evaluation and review of current progress for this plan.

Our Sierra Madre Unit is having its first meeting of the fall season on September 23, 9:15 a.m., at 327 Sierra Woods, Sierra Madre. A luncheon will follow the meeting where members and guests will be able to visit. We invite all interested women to attend. For information call 355-8846.

Masks To Smithsonian

Three emergency oxygen masks used by the Apollo II astronauts Neil Armstrong, "Buzz" Aldrin and Mike Collins during their historic moon voyage are destined for permanent exhibition in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. The manufacturer, Sierra Engineering Company, Sierra Madre, Calif., has learned the masks wil be turned over to the Smithsonian after quarantine procedures have been completed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The masks were worn in the space ship to avoid stagnant and unpleasant air encountered in the close and confined cabin quarters. The design details and manufacture were completed by Sierra Engineering Company which has pioneered in the development of emergncy oxygen masks for air force and navy personnel in high altitude flights.

Sierra Engineering Company manufactures several types of life support equipment and is a subsidiary of CapTech Inc.

MANY CAN REMEMBER the cold, cold waters of the Canyon Pool that opened July 3, 1929, and with tears in their eyes they can well remember the last day that it was open, September 15, 1957. Don and Judy Redman with their children Cici and Kim, and their Great Dane, Shadow, enjoyed a delightful three weeks at Playa de Hermosa, which is just two miles south of Ensenada. They made their headquarters at a trailer park right on the beach so were able to sun and swim to their hearts content. Judy tells us they chose this spot for Shadow, and that she had a great time running and swimming with all of them. All had a wonderful time and are ready for a repeat performance anytime.

Now that they are getting settled into the old routine of everyday living they are looking forward to a visit from Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Starsky from Toledo, Ohio. It promises to be a very exciting time of sharing their vacations as Mr. and Mrs. Starsky have just returned from a tour of the Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. Bertha M. Billings retrned recently from a very enjoyable trip to Skagway, Alaska. She went from Sierra Madre to Vancouver by bus where she spent four days sight seeing and then went aboard the Prince George for a leisurely trip up the Inland Passage to Skagway. Stops were made at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg and Juneau. While she was in Skagway a trip was made by train through the mountains to Ft. Bennett which followed the old Yukon trail. Mrs. Billings said that this was one of the highlights of her trip.

While the weather was very cool, cloudy, and foggy the sun did appear now and then and she tells us that this seemed to make the scenery all the more beautiful — everything was so fresh and green, in fact breath taking, and even more exciting were the glaciers and icebergs.

On her return from Skagway she stopped for a three day visit where she was most impressed by the profusion of beautiful flowers. All in all it was such a wonderful trip that she says she would like to go again. Maybe she will let me stowaway in her luggage next time!

California Department of Motor Vehicles has issued about 20,000 identity cards to nondrivers since the beginning of this year.

Remember The Canyon Swimming Pool?

an eating place outside of the fenced pool area for your convenience.

Immediately after the initial opening of the pool, the week of July 14-20 was designated as American Red Cross Swim Week for Sierra Madre and a series of six free classes were held for all ages. L. M. Steimie, a member of the regular corps of Red Cross instructors was in charge of these first lessons. When the lessons were all completed, then tests were given and emblems awarded in the different divisions. Every summer the Red Cross Swimming lessons were available and every summer a swimming carnival was held.

The cold, mountain water was perhaps rather hard for some swimmers to become accustomed to, but by the same token it was a drawing card for professional and amateur swimmers in training to whom heated water is quite exhausting. Many of these hardy folk would come very, very early or very, very late for their practice sessions.

While the weather was the real deciding factor, Decoration Day was the day usually scheduled for opening of the swimming season which closed when school started in the fall. Occasionally night swimming or swimming parties were held, but this was a little out of the ordinary for as mentioned before the water was cold and especially after the sun went down. Many members of the early Sierra Madre families will remember purchasing season tickets . . . and the tall Sycamore tree they used to climb for a spectacular, out of the commonplace dive. Oh yes, there was a conventional diving board, but this was real excitement! This was later discontinued . . . undoubtedly because of insurance factors . . . Although, fortunately, there were never any accidents. Just happened to wonder . . . if any of those first fellows who lifeguarded — George Scott, (who was the first lifeguard at the pool), Joe Scalzo, Jimmy and Kendall Heasley had to prove that they really knew how to swim, or if they just sat around getting tan and talking to admiring young females?

In talking with the original leasee, Mrs. James C. Heasley, the point was made — and this is something those who never venture into business for themselves fail to realize — that the running of the pool was a lot of hard work, a lot of expense — insurance, upkeep, towels, bathing suits, etc. — with long, strenuous hours. She fondly recalls that there were certain kids who would do nothing but cause trouble from the time they arrived for a swim until the time they left. When any of this group were seen coming down the road, the entire staff would groan and wholheartedly wish for the mischievious few to decide something else would be more fun than swimming!

The Canyon plunge although a rather free form design, was built right in the Flood Control Channel and during the winter was always used as such. The shallow end of the pool was upstream (North) and during the rainy season the water would just flow over the top of this side while on the downstream and deep end of the pool was a large opening — as wide as the present channel is now. In the summer swimming months this large opening would be secured with a wooden gate.

The new pool in Sierra Vista Park was originally scheduled to open on August 15, 1957, but due to the strike of plumbers and hodcarriers the work was somewhat delayed. As an emergency measure the Canyon Pool was reopened for the last time on August 2. It was expected that the canyon pool would stay open for approximately seven weeks.

Sunday, September 15, 1957 was the last day the canyon pool was ever used and at that time it was thought that the new city pool would open for a few days the end of September or early in October. But you know how those things go . . . when fully completed, at a cost of approximately $95,000, the official open house was held on Sunday, October 27 and was attended by some 500 citizens. Not all were inclined to put the newest city acquisition to any tests as the pool was not heated and there were only about 200 people brave enough to climb into the 50 ft. by 100 ft. 'swimmin' hole.'

It's a pretty good bet, that while Sierra Madre has a lovely, comparatively new public pool in Sierra Vista Park, there are still some of us who remember with nostalgia the Canyon Plunge rustically nestled among the Sycamores, the icey cold water and the fun-filled summer days spent in that sylvan setting.

Community Meetings At Field School On 'Modular Schdule Program'

Parents of children attending Eugene Field Elementary School in East Pasadena will meet in the school auditorium Wednesday, September 17, at 8 p.m. to hear about the new organizational plan referred to as a "Modular Schedule Program."

Although only third through sixth grade Field School pupils are directly involved in the new program, parents of younger children and all interested members of the community are invited to attend, according to Donald J. Hill, principal.

In addition to the first general meeting on September 17, there will be grade level meetings for parents as follows: Grade 3, Monday, September 22; Grade 4, Wednesday, September 24; Grade 5, Monday, September 29; Grade 6, Wednesday, October 1.

These meetings, all at 8 p.m. in Field School auditorium, will take the place for Grades 3 through 6 of meetings with individual teachers in their classrooms which have been held in previous years. Parents of pnpils in kindergarten through 2nd grade will meet with the individual teachers in their classrooms on Tuesday, September 30 at 8 p.m. for an explanation of curriculum, goals, and procedures for each class.

The new program aims to provide a framework within which teachers can develop specialized competence and students can get more individual attention or forge ahead independently according to their needs, competency, and individual interests. Essential elements for the program are library-resource room facilities for individual self - directed work on assignments and a corps of volunteer parent-aides to take over as many routine tasks as possible within and outside the classroom, and even, in suitable cases, to assist with instruction under the teacher's supervision.

Curricula, text-books, and the amount of class time devoted to each basic subject will be substantially the same as in the whole Pasadena Unified District. Major changes will be in the extent to which teachers cooperate closely with one another to coordinate assignments and to check on pupil progress, and in the amount of home-school communication. "Conferencing" becomes an almost continuous process, rather than a tight schedule for a few weeks in November with one brief conference per child per year.

Several committees, each co-chaired by a teacher and a parents, their efforts coordinated by Principal Donald J. Hill, have tackled the many problems involved in setting up the new program, with enthusiasm, ingenuity, many hours of unpaid hard work, and determination to get it started, even though only rudimentary and make-shift facilities for the library-resource center can be managed on the austerity budget available. With the opening of school and meetings to explain the program, involvement of many more parents and of other members of the community is anticipated.

Japanese Flower Arrangement Class Sept. 19

A six-week course is being offered in basic Japanese Flower Arrangement in the Arcadia Park Recreation Building at 450 Santa Anita Ave. beginning Friday, Sept. 19 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The fee is $6.00 for the course. There will be two teachers who will give a short lecture, make demonstration arrangements, and help each pupil individually. This is an opportunity to learn to create charming arrangements for home, office, or flower show competition in the Japanese style that is notable for making much from very little plant material. To enroll, or for more details, call Virginia at 445-9133 or Mrs. Gibson at 448-6441.

Scotch Foursome By Eaton Women

The Eaton Canyon Women's Golf Club played an 18 hole Scotch Foursome Tourney. The team of Zoli Alexander and Margie Phelps won the first place honor with a score of 20. Peg Simpson and Doris Ireland were second with 15. Marietta Kermond and her partner came in third with 14. The team of Margie Carta and Jill Carta also came in with 14. Betty McCann and Virginia Friederici were happy to place in the winning column with a 12.

Orchid Hobbyists Meet Sept. 18 At Arboretum

San Gabriel Valley Orchid Hobbyists September meeting will be on September 18 at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in the lecture hall, at 7:45 p.m.

The speaker will be a well - known friend and orchid grower, Frank Fordyce, of Oceanside, to talk on "Gattleyas." This will be an interesting talk as Mr. Fordyce does know his orchids, also this will be sad for the group, as Mr. Fordyce will be moving up north to be with Red McClellan's Orchid Company.

There will be no culture class in September.

There will be several orchid corsage classes in October, and a bus trip to Oceanside September 21.

Audubon Society To Meet Sept. 19

The Pasadena Audubon Society will hold its first meeting of the 1969-70 seasno on Friday, September 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the west wing of the Pasadena Public Library, Walnut and Garfield Streets.

"Look Down," a sound color film produced by James A. Wilkie, will be shown. This is a true life nature film, presenting a dramatic interplay of plant, animal and insect life hidden in familiar fields and woods.

The public is cordially invited.

S & R Team Gives Help

As other agencies went into action to combat the disastrous fire last week, so did the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team. By 10 p.m. Wednesday night, September 10, duty man Larry Twedell mobilized 14 men to standby in the Rescue room, as the team set up a radio command post in the police parking lot, with field posts established on Alcorn Way and at Chantry Flats road head to relay any messages.

The team saw its initial action at 1 a.m. Thursday morning when the Police Department requested the Rescue Team to search the olive grove above the Liliano tract for suspected persons hiding there. Six men conducted that search with no persons seen or found.

At 5:30 a.m. the team responded to the canyon to assist the Police Department and Fire Department in the evacuation of the canyon residents to the Red Cross shelters. At the same time, four team members and one of the rescue trucks reported to the heliport above Camillo to assist the L.A. County Fire Department air-attack helicopters. The men here were on standby to fly immediately to the scene to prevent a reoccurance of the San Gabriel Fire disaster of last summer. They also helped load the helicopters with Phos-chex, a fire retardent, and to load the fire crews.

One o'clock Thursday, a man was reported injured on the fire lines, and three team members flew directly to the scene, heltacked and evacuated the injured man with a broken leg.

until 6 p.m. when the helicopters shut down for the night. Standby crews were then positioned at Chantry Flats, in as much as the phones were out of order, and another crew on duty at the Rescue Room. The night proved uneventful, and at dawn Friday morning, a new crew went to work at the heliport above Camillo. This crew was relieved of its duty at noon when the helicopters were called on the fire and the team returned to normal operating procedures.

Roberts Market — Will It Stay?

ing No and Rule and Simons yes.

This does not necessarily mean that the situation is a DEAD ISSUE, for at anytime the Resolution can be brought up again and voted upon. Any three Councilmen could call a special meeting for this purpose; however with the objections that were shown and the feeling of the Council it is doubtful that this will occur.

Mayor Hartman in summation stated, "One of my reasons for turning down the proposition is that I feel it is POOR PLANNING." Previous to this the Planning Commission had sanctioned and given approval to the planning.

Further Mayor Hartman did not like the no-angle parking of the area and felt that the Suffolk - Baldwin corner properties should have been included in the development.

Time, may have further developments, however now the Council has had an outright offer of $107,000 in cash for the property owned by the Parking District. Suggestions were made to sell the space to the party or parties and take the money and buy the old hotel and tear it down for parking. It is a bonafied offer.

Further reason that we feel that the Roberts Market could stay in Sierra Madre is due to the time element. Options from the Developers, expired at midnight Thursday, September 11.

The Council was not as definite as it may seem on the rejection of the Resolution, those voting no were not satisfied with the answers that they had been receiving or not receiving.

Should Mrs. Roberts give the Developers an extention on their options, the Council could work out their differences with the Developer. Should this extention be granted, it will be found on Page one of this issue along with a notice of a Special Meeting of the City Council to reconsider; at this point it is doubtful.

Adult Education Classes Start

A total of seventeen courses covering a variety of horticulture subjects, two courses in California history and one in botanical and nature sketching and water colors, are being offered this fall at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia.

Many of the courses are sponsored jointly by the Arboretum with Pasadena City College, UCLA Etxension Division, and the California Arboretum Foundation. Some of the courses require fees, some offer college credit, practically all meet once a week for a full semester. Students register and pay fees, if any, at the first meeting of each class.

Thursday, Sept. 18, from 9 to 12 noon, Arboretum curator Mrs. Patricia Warren offers California History and Gerry Patten starts his yearly class in Sketching and Water Colors. A fee is charged for this latter course. Also on Thursday Dr. Crummett gives a course entitled Ornamental Trees from 7 to 10 p.m. Further details on these courses may be obtained from the Education Division of the Arboretum, 301 N. You and Your Neighbors

Gerorge and Esa Grijalva and three boys, Mark and Dewey Beckwith and Daniel Grijalva recently enjoyed a week's stay at Sugar Loaf, near Big Bear. Vacation was indeed vacation — fishing, horseback riding and getting away from it all! Incidently, birthday greetings are in order for Dewey who celebrated his 13th year on September 4. You're now a 'teenager,' Dewey!

A birthday party with a slightly different ingredient — and just as much fun — was the August 24th birthday of Cynthia Dykes, daughter of Paul and Dorothy Dykes of 290 West Laurel. The different ingredient was Cynthia's daddy, Mr. Dykes. Mrs. Dykes, not too long out of the hospital, where she spent three weeks, is on a 'limited activities' regimen and while present for the party doings was unable to take an active part in the preparation or directing of any of the festivities, and this left Mr. Dykes in complete charge. From what we hear, the party, actually held on Saturday, August 23rd, was a tremendous success — not only for those attending, but for Mr. Dykes as well. He was in charge of everything and did a most competent job. The guests attending were Cindy Babbitt, Cathy Steeves, Mary Juszczuk, Lynn Roth, Debra, Jack and Pam Mathieu. After a lunch at a local pizza parlor the group returned to the Dykes home where, following the playing of a few party games, all enjoyed cake, delightfully decorated with 9 tiny ballerinas amid pink, yellow and red rosebuds, and ice cream. Happy birthday to Cynthia who was 9 years old and a big wish to her mom for a speedy and complete recovery . . . Also, I think congratulations are in order to dad for the fine party he gave . . . . More fathers ought to try their hands at this; think they would thoroughly enjoy the enlightening experience.

Happy, but belated, 16th wedding anniversary greeting to Robert and Betty Babbitt. Their 'day' was August 17.

One of Sierra Madre's busier people — Elsa (nee Seifert) Grijalva is now working on the Reunion Committee for the Arcadia/Duarte Class of 1950. The committee held their first meeting on Thursday, September 4 at a local restaurant and started forming the plans for a June 1970 reunion. Those attending, in addition to Mrs. Grijalva, were Judy (nee Muscat) Newman, formerly of Sierra Madre now of Hacienda Heights; Horace F. "Bunny" Gillett, Jr., formerly of Sierra Madre, now of Newport Beach; Donald Montgomery of Monrovia; and Paulette (nee Dunne) Smith, formerly of Monrovia, now of Garden Grove. It will be a lot of work, but the end result will be lots of fun and well worth the time spent in preparation.

Trade is a Builder

* Does Your Trade Build for You?

TRADE built this community . . . its homes, its churches, its schools, its business houses, its jobs, its pleasant way of life.

Without Trade . . . the exchange between neighbors of labor's fruits for goods and services . . . none of these would —nor could—exist here.

Quite naturally . . . more trade builds better communities. Every single additional dollar that is spent here at home does its bit to bring greater prosperity for you and for all of us who live here.

As a matter of fact, Trade builds wherever it exists. Spend your money at home, the trade it creates builds here. Spend it in the city, the building takes place there.

There is contentment, security and opportunity in a growing community. These are the most important things that your dollar buys . . . but they can't be wrapped up and taken home with you from a city store.

Storm Drain Bonds For Sale

County supervisors have authorized sale of an additional $15 million in 1958 and 1964 storm drain bonds, Supervisor Warren Dorn reported today.

The action was recommended by County Flood Control District Chief Engineer Walter J. Wood.

Dorn said bids for the bonds will be opened at the October 14 meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The sale will be the sixteenth under the 1958 program with $5 million being offered bringing the total of $220 million out of an original authorized issue of $225 million.

$10 million in 1964 bonds will be sold on October 14 with the sale being the tenth since passage of the program. It wil bring the total offered to $170,050,000, Dorn said.

The 1958 program is virtually complete with the majority of the balance of funds to be used in financing "supplementary" projects built with savings on regular drains.

Sale of the new block of bonds is expected to finance construction of drains through the spring of next year, Dorn added.

Letters To the Editor . . . .

Dear Editor:

It would appear that, within a few years, the Federal Government will be the largest advertiser on television through its public service announcements. Recently, we were "treated" to the spectacle of the government-instigated commercials against cigarette smoking. Of course, at the same time these commercials were being run, the Federal Government was subsidizing the tobacco-farming industry.

Now in Southern California, we are being exposed to commercials purporting to explain the causes of inflation. It is not clear if these ads are government instigated or not; but they do give the impression that the government is trying to stop inflation and that the citizens of this country are the culprits causing inflation. The fact is that the reverse is true. Although citizens may contribute in a minute way to the continuation of inflation, its major cause is the government.

The largest single cause of inflation is government spending, and the government is obtaining its spending money by coin clipping and the use of unbacked printing-press money.

It is ludicrous for Americans to be told that they can stop inflation by being more careful in spending. It is equally as ludicrous for the President of the United States to announce his support of a Sur Tax as a means to stop inflation.

The only solution to inflation is an honest government — one which will seek spending cuts rather than tax reforms, and one which will stop printing worthless paper money and return to gold and silver-backed currency.

Fire Damage Will Be In the Spring

now lay in ashes, this is not the real damage that may come of this dastardly deed.

This coming year could well be the 50-year designed storm that the Food Control district has been speaking about for the past two years.

Unless our City Council makes immediate plans by the help of the many Volunteer Groups available in our city, the time may come this fall or spring when we will again find boulders and debris in our homes and business houses of the city. This is nothing that anyone can play around with, we have seen and heard what has happened to other areas hit by Fire and then water.

This single fire alone cost the City Taxpayers well over $2,5000 in Police overtime, Fire salaries, food, gasoline and torn-up equipment to say nothing of the loss and wear and tear on the equipment, loss of water shed and the damage that may come later.

Firmly believing that most fire alarms run in series of threes, your Volunteer Firefighters were next called into action at 4:19 p.m. Thursday afternoon to the Passionist Fathers Monastery.

Engine 424 arrived at the scene of the call in 4 minutes and 10 seconds to find that over-anxious informants, having seen a good quantity of dust being raised by tractors making a fire trail, had believed that it was another brush fire and reported as such.

Twenty-one Regular Firefighters answered the alarm, and there being no fire were released by Fire Chief Brown at 4:25 to return to the station. Truck 421, 422 and Car 426 also responded.

Again at the hour of 4:36, the engine and men having been secured the next alarm was sounded at the hour of 4:36 with men and equipment being sent to the corner of Mountain Trail and Sturtevant.

This was an odd ball call in so far as a resident of 331 Sturtevent had called the County Fire to inquire about the condition of the brush fire in the hills; the dispatcher mistook the call as a brush fire call and so notified the Sierra Madre Department.

Engine 424 and 423 answered the alarm in 4 minutes and 15 seconds and proceeded to encircle the area, finding no fire they were released to return to the station at 5 p.m.

Twenty-one Regular Firefighters also answered this alarm, it being No. 74 for the year for Fire Suppression as compared to 41 at this time last year.

who was also in court. We came around to bill paying and eventually to what is considered a "tightwad." He asked me if I knew what a "tightwad" was, and although I had my version of it, I wanted to pass away a little time and hear what he had to say, so I answered him "no."

— CT —

Well his version was that of a brother-in-law who went into a gift store to find an inexpensive birthday present for this fellows wife, and according to the explantion from the operator, he found everything very expensive . . . except for a vase which had been broken.

— CT —

After some thought on the matter he made the purchase of it for practically nothing and asked the store keeper to send it. He wanted his sister to think it had been broken in transit.

— CT —

Later on, this fellow told me, his wife sent a beautiful thank you note to her brother which read, "Many thanks for the beautiful vase, I really appreciated it. It was so nice of you to wrap each piece separately." can you imagine anything like that . . . I can, but I always wrap my packages myself.

— CT —

Actually I knew of a couple that made quite a bit of money by buying up broken expensive antiques, where they could obtain all the parts. Sending them to a relative heavily insured and then collecting the breakage insurance . . . they did quite well in this business, until they got caught . . . if I remember well they received five years of free board and room.

— CT —

Again I say be doubly careful of your driving, the child that you spare may be your own.

— CT —

And closing the column this week with a little bit of humor about school children, let us all remember that we're raising a whole generation of children who firmly believe that when a woman grows older she turns blonde, I hope, I hope, I hope.

WHEN IN DOUBT—READ THE INSTRUCTIONS

Constitution Week 1969 More Meaningful Than Ever

Constitution Week in 1969 seems somehow more meaningful than ever.

The traditional observance September 17 through 23 is the first in this so-called "new era" heralded by our wonderful astronauts in their successful voyage to the moon.

The heartening circumstance is that the bold adventure by these three clean-cut Americans has brought a resurgence of outgoing reverence for the principles which have made the United States great. The giant stride forward, paradoxically perhaps, has given new luster to the down-to-earth truths which made it possible.

Looking back over the year, too, we have seen the American System at work. Despite some national tragedies . . . and despite the highly publicized antics of fringe elements who would have one believe all standards have gone down the drain . . . we again have shown the world how a truly Constitutional government works.

Since Constitution Week, 1968, there has been a change of national administration. Despite the predictions of violence and breakdown, the changeover was smooth and in the best tradition of peaceful acceptance of the People's will as expressed through free secret ballot.

No wonder the peoples of the world continue to marvel at — and attempt to emulate—the United States Constitution approved by delegates to a federal convention on September 17, 1787.

And no wonder this year more than ever, this 182nd anniversary of the "Charter of Liberty" is being observed by schools, civic groups, government bodies and courts — all so dependent on the instrument for their continuing vigor. Traditionally, too, here in Southern California it is the Constitution Week Observance Committee, headed by Lee Crail, president of Coast and Southern Federal Savings and Loan Association, which sponsors the reverent observance.

Again the appeal is that all of us contribute to the occasion by flying the American Flag during the week. And that we study this wonderful document — pledging ourseves to uphold it against those who would pervert or dilute its meanings.

If we read an aroused public and patriotic spirit correctly, this year's Constitution Week should see a record-breaking number of sincere manifestations of respect for our Constitution.

As to flying the American Flag . . . have you noticed how people are doing it without being prompted these days?

General Tele. Launches Own United Appeal

General Telephone Co. of California launches its 1969-70 United Appeal campaign this month with plans to top its $500,000 contribution of last year.

In making the announcement, Robert W. Shaffer, General's Southern area general manager and campaign chairman, stressed that 20,300 employees will be contacted during a company-wide drive, Sept. 8 through Sept. 19.

Competition among the company's four geographical areas plus its corporate headquarters in Santa Monica is expected to boost the total monies raised, Shaffer said.

A special "president's trophy" will be awrded to the staff group or division which best raises its "fair-share."

"Our goal this year is in keeping with the increasing need of those helped by United Appeal," Shaffer stressed.

Hundreds of public service agencies ranging from the Braille Institute to the Salvation Army are benefited by United Appeal.

More than 30 committees have been formed throughout the company to conduct the campaign, and employees who will act as solicitors will visit various United Appeal agencies and or view films which emphasize the importance of the agencies' work.

Shaffer also noted that General Telephone and its employees are community minded.

"Not only through making charitable contributions, but you will find that the company's employees at all levels are active in community service organizations," Shaffer concluded.

Know . . .

THE FOOD You Eat

by JEANNETTE

EDITOR'S NOTE: When her children were young and full of questions, Jeannette Heasley found herself looking up the why fores of the food her children ate and asked qustions about. She would write them down and after explaining them to the satisfaction of her children, filed them away for future questions. Now that her children are grown, she extracted them from the Heasley Archives and is sharing them with you in a weekly column.

Now that the children are back in school and summer is just about over, what could be a better way of winding up the summer activities than to have an outdoor barbecue or go to Hawaii and have a luau.

When you decide to have that outdoor feast you will probably want to grill or broil your roast, fowl or fish. An amusing note on the use of the words broil and grill — Broil means to become heated or angry. Grill, is to torment with heat. But leaving all this aside, the first grills were most likely no more than improvised frameworks for keeping the food from falling into the fire. The oldest method of cooking was the stringing bits of meat, fish or fowl on a stick or twig and holding them over the fire. Now we know this as kebab cookery.

Fuel for the fire in the early days was whatever was available. First wood, then coal and coke. They never attained the popularity of charcoal which was a seventeenth-century innovation.

Instead of putting your meat on the spit you may prefer to use a nice sirloin steak on the grill. There is a story that one evening Charles II was having a dinner for some of his admirers, and being in a very happy mood he was speaking to them of their loyalty. He paused and remarked that as fond as he was of all of them he had still a greater favorite — the loin of a good beef. At that he took his sword and touched the roast before him and said, "Good beef roast, I Knight thee, Sir Loin." Thus today we have that choice cut of beef known as sirloin.

If you should decide to make this end of summer event have an Hawaiian flavor you will probably marinate your meat with one of the prepared mixes that are so convenient or one of your own concoctions. In any event a nice table decoration as well as a perfect desert for this meal would be a hollowed out pineapple or watermelon filled with some exotic tropical fruits such as —

The watermelon which is normally a dry - country plant and is a native of Africa. It was taken to India and reached China in the tenth century.

Muskmelons first grew wild in Asia and Africa and possibly known by the ancient Egyptians. The Casaba melon is also a muskmelon which derived its name from Kassaba near Smyrna, Asia Minor, where it was first grown. The Cantaloupe belongs to the muskmelon family and was named for an Italian castle where it was first grown.

The Sapote, a lovely tropical fruit is cultivated in Mexico, Southern United States, West Indies and the Orient. This fruit grows on a tree which attains the heighth of 50 feet, and is the size of a large orange. It resembles a quince in that it is a pale yellow or yellowish green. It has a soft cream colored pulp of melting delicate texture. The flavor is sweet and lacks any acidity. The Mexicans used to believe that over-indulgence of the Sapote would induce sleep.

The Mango was grown in Southern Asia since the beginning of time. It was cultivated in India more than 4,000 years ago. The flowers from the evergreen tree on which the Mango grows were employed in religious ceremonies and annual celebrations were held in its honor. The Portugese took the Mango to Africa and later to South America where it was first established in Brazil. The Mango varies in its habits of growth and in the size of its fruit, which can be the size of a plum or can be 4 to 5 pounds. The aroma is somewhat spicy and the falvor is a cross between an apricot, a pineapple, and the peach.

We don't want to forget the Avacado in our tropical fruit basket. This fruit is grown in Mexico, Central America, parts of South America, the West Indies, Hawaii and in Florida and California. The Avocado is ingenous to Mexico, Central America, Peru and Brazil. In Spanish speaking countries the Avocado is known as Ahuacate or Aguacate which was derived from the Aztec Ahuacatl. Avocado is the adapation use in the United States and English speaking countries. The French call it the Avocat. (The use of Alligator Pear is not correct.)

The Avocado varies in size from 1 to 6 inches in diameter and in weight from a few ounces to 3 or 4 pounds. The flavor can best be described as nutlike and has the consistency of firm butter. It is unlike other fruits in that it contains large amounts of vegetable oil, sometimes as much as 18 per cent, hence it is considered more of a food than a desert. Since it is such a versatile fruit it can be used in a salad with lemon or salad dressing, or it blends well with other fruits.

The Papaya's original home was America. It has spread throughout the tropical world. Early in the 17th century it became popular in the Orient, and is now grown in India, Ceylon, Malay, Africa and Australia. The Papaya is a giant herbaceous plant, 25 to 30 feet high and is likened to a palm in appearance. The fruit is sperical or cylinrical, 3 to 20 inches in length, and can weigh 20 pounds or more.

The skin is thick and encloses a large angled cavity in which there are many round black seeds enclosed in a thin gelatinous aril. The flavor is rather sweet, but slightly musky. Like the Avocado it can be used in a salad as well as a desert. The fruits, as well as all parts of the plant, contains a milky juice in which an active principle known as papain is present. This enzyme greatly resembles animal pepsin in its digestive action, and is what we buy for a meat tenderizer today.

Sierra Madre Cigarette Tax Totals $2,140.56

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy today announced the distribution of $5,181,194 to counties and cities as the August apportionment of cigarette tax.

L. A. County's share was $127,779.94, and Sierra Madre's share was $2,140.56.

This amount represents 30 per cent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of July 1969. The counties' share was $958,374 and the cities' share was $4,222,820.

Fire Side

ever since Captain John Buchan was a little feller, and there are plenty more of them out there in the bushes, but when one of them is caught it does give give the others something to think about, and a definite slump is expected in that category . . . and one Engineers says, I hope, I hope, I hope.

— SMVFD —

During this whole cotton pickin' fire mess the person that is more worried than any one connected with the Fire Fighters is one City Administrator Norman Boehm . . . Now Boehm has been telling the Council that he presented them with a balanced budget . . . Well any Firefighter can tell you that the past couple of months sure unbalanced it.

— SMVFD —

Seems that our illustrious City Administrator got out his slide rule and after running it up and down a couple of times comes up with the figure that we would have 9 night firse for the coming year and that those 9 night fires would cost the city about $1,000, and that is the figure that went into the balanced budget.

— SMVFD —

At the end of the first two months 11 night alarms went down the tubes and at this writing the total has reached 12 for a total of somewhere around $1,300, and the City Administrator is out looking under each bush trying to come up with a few extra bucks for the balance of the year . . . Just do not worry any longer, Norm . . . Fire Prevention has declared it absolutely illegal to have any fire between the hours of 9 p.m. in the evening until after 6 a.m. in the morning, so that has been taken care of . . . no sweat.

— SMVFD —

Again and again and again we want to give a tip of the Firefighters Hat to Bill Sullivan of the Bottle Shop, all through these trying and hot times he has been furnishing ice to the drinking bar on 424 . . . And I will tell you for sure, you just have to be out there on the fire line once to know what it means to get a cool drink of water now and then. It has been a God Sent and Bill has the thanks of everyone of us . . . If you ever need our services Bill, you will get FIRST CLASS TREATMENT, you had better believe it.

Out of the Cobwebs

Sixty Years Ago: September 10, 1909

Guests at Mt. Wilson Hotel and Strain's Camp were given a novel Labor Day treat in the form of a burlesque entertainment called the "Bear Gulch Circus." Spectators to the number of 200 enjoyed the event. There was the usual preliminary parade, which returned to the circus grounds at Strain's. The trained elephant with L. L. Test of Pasadena as mahout, proved one of the best features. Among the other fun-making attractions were: Kenyon Warren as the bearded lady; Helen Dowd and Mrs. Fred Volt as the Siamese twins; Lila Wagner, wild woman; Mary Beal, snake charmer; troop of Indians headed by Mrs. Compton; Miss Mary Vollmer, fat lady; A. H. Cameron, Buster Brown; Sam Tutton, Tattooed man; Lawrence Test, wild man; Charles Swartz and J. Armstrong, boxing clowns; Miss Norma Gould, bareback rider and dancer, and Dr. Walter Coburn, spieler.

Mountain climbers who have been beyond the first range of the Sierra Madre within a short time have found the streams there considerably higher than for some weeks on account of rains which fell early in the week. From Mt. Wilson on Sunday heavy rainfall could be seen on Horse Flats, Mt. Pacifico and at times as near as Barley Flats. Thunder could be heard distinctly on the peak.

STRAYED OR STOLEN — Team of large, black mules, weight about 1,450 pounds, from grading camp at Grand View and Sunnyside. Notify Oswald Bros. at camp. Reward.

Greer Caskey brought a fine buck down from the mountains near the Quarterway House Tuesday morning and several of his friends got a good taste of tender young venison as a result.

Mrs. Frank Wright left on Tuesday for Chicago, going by way of San Francisco and expecting to remain about a month. She was accompanied by the two younger children, Lorraine and Franklin.

Letters To the Editor . . . .

Dear Editor:

The coming Soccer season is about to commence in the Sierra Madre - Arcadia area; and, of course, publicity is of great assistance in affecting a successful program such as this. Last season, our fourth, we fielded some 17 teams, comprised of boys from La Canada, Pasadena, Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Monrovia between the ages of 7 and 16. This amounted to the participation of some 230 boys and we anticipate that this increasingly popular sport will grow to between 300-350 boys in our area this year, and within 10 years, to a major American sport. The emphasis on sportsmanship and every participant playing in every game has added to the success of our program. We have appreciated in the past any publicity given by yours and the other newspapers and would appreciate any future consideration in this matter.

Enclosed is a news release setting forth the dates of registration, which we would like to have published in your newspaper sometime prior to the 17th of September, if possible. Should you wish any further information about our program please do not hesitate to contact me at 355-6719 or at my business 620-9440.

13,230 Checks Out Los Angeles Co.

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy today mailed 17,691 checks of $70 each to Californians certified by their county assessors as eligible to receive the Homeowners Property Tax Relief payments.

This was the fourth distribution of payments under the program initiated by the Legislature and approved by the voters in 1968. The first three distributions on June 13, July 9, and August 8 totaled 2,447,114 such checks to other claimants.

Flournoy said some county assessors still are processing applications received by the May 23 deadline for filing. The assessors also now have the applications of those veterans and other homeowners who qualified for the special filing period created by the Legislature and which ended September 1.

The payments represent a rebate on 1968-69 property taxes. For subsequent years, eligible applicants may qualify for $750 exemptions on the assessed value of their property for local property tax purposes.

Most (13,230) of today's checks went to Los Angeles county.

Want A Ticket To 1970 Rose Bowl Game?

Public sale of 3,500 tickets for the 56th annual Rose Bowl Game on January 1, 1970 in Pasadena, has been authorized by the participating conferences, the Pacific Eight and the Big Ten.

The Tournament of Roses has been requested by Thomas J. Hamilton, executive director of the Pacific 8, and William R. Reed, commissioner of the Big 10, to conduct a drawing to determine 1,750 persons entitled to purchase two tickets for the New Year's Day game. This will be the only public sale of Rose Bowl tickets, the remainder being handled by the participating schools.

Interested persons should send a post card containing their name and address to Rose Bowl, Box 1800, Calif. 91109. The cards may be sent from any post office at any time between now and October 15, 1969. All post cards postmarked before midnight of this closing date will be accepted.

C. Lewis Edwards, president ow the 81st annual Tournament of Roses, will preside at a drawing ceremony soon after the October 15 closing date, at which time 1,750 cards will be drawn. Two tickets will be allotted to each person whose name is drawn and ticket applications will be mailed to these card owners.

Instructions should be carefully followed when mailing the post cards. Letters are not acceptable. No money should be mailed until requested.

Attend the church of your choice every Sunday.

From the FIRE SIDE
By One of the Boys

With the Monrovia Police apprehension of a youth that admitted setting some nine fires in this area, all Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Fighters are now more relaxed. In fact Engineer Lee Graves said that he was going to sleep with his turn-out pants over the foot of the bed instead of sleeping in them all night.

— SMVFD —

Even Reservist Maurer is going home nights now instead of staying in Sierra Madre over the weekend. Yes, Firefighters all over the area feel that the potential has been greatly reduced, and that before the whole situation is fully solved that some 18 of the recent fires will have been pinpointed. It is really a hair-raising experience for all Firefighters.

— SMVFD —

In this whole fracas the one that I feel more relieved about is Firefighter fighter Bill Herrold . . . You see Bill wanted to be ready all the time, so he thought the best thing to do was seep in his "hard hat." Now that was an accomplishment; I tried it and your head is about ten inches off the pillow, but you will have to give credit to these young Firefighters, they will always find a way.

— SMVFD —

I can understand what Linda Burleson must have thought to find Don in bed with his rubber boots on, because Don is most often the first one in on any fire call, and he wouldn't want to get blisters on his feet from the hot brush . . . . They would probably term him as third degree burns on 90 per cent of his body.

— SMVFD —

I will always wonder just what the Firefighters of Arcadia thought on Wednesday night, September 3, when they got the call and went roaring up Double Drive and saw 423 setting at Grandview and Santa Anita as though nothing was taking place. You see, our boys were out on drill and decided to go to the city limits and await the call . . . . They were in there fighting in the matter of seconds.

— SMVFD —

Of course, Chief Charles Brown, as well as the chiefs of Arcadia, Monrovia and El Monte, are very proud men . . . They are indeed proud of the work of their Firefighters, the quick response and the know-how eliminated what could have been some very serious tragedies. Not that we are saying that other departments over the state are slow, it is just that we seem to have some very wide awake spotters and informers and our departments need only the world and they are off and running.

— SMVFD —

I really got a great big kick out of one Arcadia Firefighter when we were discussing the quick response of the Sierra Madre Volunteers and their eagerness to help . . . He said, every time they get a call for the hillsides they give Sierra Madre the first thought, that by calling them, there are enough of them that they could stomp out the fire if it got too big . . . . We'll that's our boys for you, stomp on it, sit on it, roll in it, but get it out pronto.

— SMVFD —

Now getting rid of one person that has a mania for setting fires does not solve all the problems of your Firefighters. We have had those desiring to set fires

Guess, first houseguest distinction goes to Mrs. Robert (Barbara) Bossard of San Diego who spent this last weekend visiting her close friends.. Rev. Anderson's Sermon To Be On 'Homecoming'

"Homecoming"—The Rev. Richard J. Anderson of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, 170 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sunday 11:00 a.m.

When the strong winds of change whip through our lives it becomes very important to maintain deep roots. Change can be for the good, but not all change is progress. For several years our nation has been experiencing an upheaval in the social, moral and spiritual fiber of life. Growing segments of our population have begun to question and attack authority on every level.

Now is the time to reaffirm those values which provide spiritual vitality and balance in daily living. Now is the time to strengthen our faith in Christ and commit ourselves unreservedly to his will. Now is the time to encourage one another in worship of God and study of our scriptures.

Homecoming is a time of reaffirmation. This is a time when you can let your life count as a living example of those values which exalt Christ and encourage godliness.

Church Sets 'Homecoming'

The Reverend Richard J. Anderson has designated Sunday, September 21 as Homecoming Sunday for the Sierra Madre Congregational Church. The entire congregation is urged to make a special effort to attend the 11:00 a.m. worship service.

The day will be climaxed by an old-fashioned ice cream social in the gardens of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fry's home in Arcadia. Children and adults are invited to this informal gathering from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m.

The whole family is urged to worship together in the morning and then come together for a time of old fashioned outdoor socializing in the afternoon.

Fall Schedule Now In Effect At Faith Lutheran

The Rev. Armin W. Hesse will resume the fall schedule at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive, Pasadena at the 10:30 worship service at which Holy Communion will also be celebrated. The Sunday School and Bible classes will convene at 9:15, beginning this Sunday, September 21, in accordance with the fall and winter schedule. All worshippers are invited to the Fellowship Coffee after the service.

Beginning next week, on Wednesday afternoon, September 24, the Junior Instruction Classes for students in Grades 7 and 8 will meet in the Parish Hall at 4 p.m., to begin study in preparation for communicant membership in the church. These classes are conducted by Rev. Hesse and Mr. Jerry Nielsen, the new director of education and youth.

Other events of the week in the congregation are a Church Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday evening, and Adult Church-Membership Class meets at 8 p.m., Thursday, September 25 to conclude its study. Senior Choir has resumed its researsals at 8 p.m., on Thursday eevnings.

Lesson-Sermon September 21

The Christian Science Lesson-Sermon this Sunday includes a prophecy from Isaiah: "And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the Lord alone shall be axalted in that day." The subject of the sermon is "Matter."

Another passage in the lesson, from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Mortals are inclined to fear and to obey what they consider a material body more than they do a spiritual God."

'Why Not Try God's Rules' Is Lesson-Sermon

Margaret M. Stevens, Minister of The Santa Anita Church, 226 West Colorado Blvd., has chosen as her subject on September 21, at the 11 a.m. service, "Why Not Try God's Rules?" All are welcome to attend our service. Infant and child care are provided. There is a 15 minute service in the sanctuary at 11 a.m. with a special "Sermonette" for children from pre-school through eighth grades. Following this, the children leave the Sanctuary for their own graded classes. This Fall, the Junior Church Program is based on material developed by Unity School of Christianity. Pre-school and Kindergarten classes utilize material entitled "Image for Happy Talk" and "Image for Learning," respectively. These years attempt to develop for the child the roots of his Spiritual Self. Lessons are basically related to the child's understanding of himself as a Child of God and the association of this understanding to his world . . . his family and his friends. Grades one through three utilize materials entitled "Unity Truth Lessons" which present basic Spiritual Principles for the child. Grades four through six utilize material entitled "Junior Bible Lessons" which expose the child to many Bible stories and their application to the child's personal spiritual heritage. The seventh and eighth grades utilize a weekly lesson entitled "Stride" which is based upon the child's awareness of applying spiritual truth to his world. Dedicated, trained young adults conduct the Junior Church Program. You and your children are invited to participate in this spiritual training.

In addition to the Sunday Junior Church program, there are youth activities during the week which are open to all young people who wish to participate. The Elementary Youth Group (grades 4, 5 and 6) meet every week at the Church on Tuesdays at 3:45 to 5:15 p.m. The Junior High Youth Group meets on Wednesdays from 4:00 to 6:30 p.m. The Mothers of this group serve them supper for 75c. On Sunday evenings the Young Adults meet in the Youth Inspiration Chapel at 7:00 p.m. This well balanced program of activities under the guidance of Youth Education Director, Russell Williams, seeks to meet the needs of young people in all three aspects of thir being—spiritual, mental and physical.

Regular Meet

"Killarney Chapter" of the Daughters of the British Empire, will hold their regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, September 25, at the British Home (recreation room), 647 Manzanita Ave. The meeting will be conducted by the Regent, Mrs. A. B. Westwood. After the business session, refreshments will be served and an exchange of holiday activities will take place between members and guests present.

Piano Classes At Park House

Have you ever wished you could play the piano? Pasadena City College is offering classes at Sierra Madre Park House. Intermediate class starts 9 a.m. to noon and beginning class 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. on Mondays.

This is a fast, easy way to learn the piano taught by Margaretto Hull, local musician and teacher. It eliminates about 90 per cent of note reading and teaches you harmony, theory and music appreciation. You will learn a piece the first class.

SPORTS AS Hank Ives SEES IT

PEERLESS PREDICTION TIME . . . .

A FOOTBALL PROGNOSTICATOR has to be lots of things. (a) Slightly tetched. (b) Thick-skinned so he will ignore the little old ladies tittering behind their hands and pointing at him in the streets. (c) Worldy-wise so that he knows when to ignore a coach who is on the crying-towel bit. (d) Swift on his feet so as to avoid the tough guy on the corner who backed up the pigskin picks with a sawbuck.

INASMUCH as old Hankus fits into all of these categories so is of course highly qualified as an expert in the manly art of pigskin prognosticating. He annually turns in a 75 per cent winning log and hits high on his specialized "limb-crawling" picks. The Ancient one tuned up by tabbing Westminster to knock off Slippery Rock last weekend and darned if they didn't by a 44-15 margin.

SO HERE GOES ON THE first week of the new campaign.

ON THE LOCAL FRONT Tom Hamilton's Pasadena Bulldogs open hostilities Friday night in the Rose Bowl against always tough St. Francis. The Canines always come up tough but have a tremendous rebuilding job to do with only nine lettermen on hand and virtually no experience at quarterback. Old Hankus looks for a ST. FRANCIS win by six.

MUIR hosts another perennial toughie in Pacific at PCC Friday night. The Mustangs have a pretty solid herd in the corral and should be a one TD winner.

PETE YODER will turn loose a horde of big, fast bruisers and are among the pre-season favorites in the CIF. James McAlister at 6-2 and 200-pounds may be the player - of - the - year. The Vikings travel to West Torrance Friday night and Hankus figures the Norse will triumph by a couple of TDs.

PASADENA'S LANCERS tune up for a mighty rugged Metropolitan Conference schedule with a Saturday night tiff against Compton's Tarters at PCC. The Lancers look like winners from pillar to post in this one. The glory battles of the 30s and 40s are long gone but these two teams used to rock and sock and pack 'em in.

IN THE PRO RANKS Hankus looks for the BALTIMORE COLTS to get off to an early lead in the Coastal Division with a 3-point win over the Rams. The Colts should be the winners in that division again this year. The Rams have displayed a somewhat porous pass defense in exhibition and Unitas wil take full advantage.

SAN DIEGO'S CHARGGERS should take Cincinnati but the Bendals are no longer a sure patsy . . .

ON THE COLLEGE FRONT Hankus tabs USC's TROJANS to trim Nebraska. John McKay should have been pleased with UCLA's easy win over Oregon State. No way can the Men of Troy be cocky about owning the town.

THE BRUINS should be able to handle a slightly improved Pittsburgh team. Dennis Dummit looks like the answer at QB for the Prothromen who rate a top prospect to unseat USC for the Rose Bowl honors.

STANFORD opens with an easy one in San Jose State. Just too much class for the Spartans to handle . . . . TEXAS should dump California in the TV game of the week but Hankus has this nudging hunch. Oh well, tab the Longhorns but not by much . . . WASHINGTON STATE is our upset pick over Illinois but Washington will bow to the MICHIGAN STATE SPARTANS . . . . . OREGON'S DUCKS will knock off Utah but Oregon State will fall to the IOWA Hawkeyes.

NO WAY CAN Cal State L.A. hope to get off to a winning start. Their first week opponent is San Diego State and the Border City crew will have their usual devastating gang on hand. S.D. ST. by three TDs.

IN OTHER BIGGIES pick NOTRE DAME over Northwestern . . . . PURDUE over TCU . . . . PENN STATE to sink the Navy . . . GEORGIA TECH over SMU . . . MISSOURI to edge tough Air Force.

SO THERE ARE THE TOP TWENTY for the first full week. Check the tetched one out, he'll be right around 75 per cent at the end of the season. He fits all of the qalifications don't you know.

STILL IN THE PREDICTING DEPT. . . . . Old Hankus figures Willie McCovey to be a lead pipe cinch for the N.L. Most Valuable Player award. In the A.L. Boog Powell looks like a good choice but wouldn't be surprised to see it go to Harmon Killebrew. Or do they plan to pick one in each division?

Southland ORT Council Will Hear Progress Reports At Sept. 29 Meeting

The Southern California Coordinating Council of Women's American ORT will feature reports of its progress since the beginning of the fiscal year at the quarterly meeting to be held Monday, Sptember 29 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Alvin Bronstein, executive director of the Los Angeles Jewish Federation - Council will be the guest speaker. Bronstein will report on the Conference of Human Needs recently held in Jerusalem.

A major report will be given by Mrs. Albert Frankel of Encino, membership chairman. Mrs. Frankel will review to the delegates from all areas of the Southland, the progress of the summer mmbership campaign just concluded. She will report that 60 chapters have already re-enrolled over 65 per cent of its membership to help further the vast vocational and technical education activities of ORT throughout the world. The Fall Campaign of reaching 90 per cent of last year's fiscal membership by November 15, which is to be officially launched at the meeting of the 29th is already in full swing.

Sparking the campaign alongside Mrs. Frankel are Mrs. Joseph Shenfeld of Sherman Oaks, Southland ORT president and Mrs. Donald Goldman of Encino who is leading the re-enrollment drive. Mrs. Leon Kraus of Anaheim heads up the campaign for the formation of new chapters.

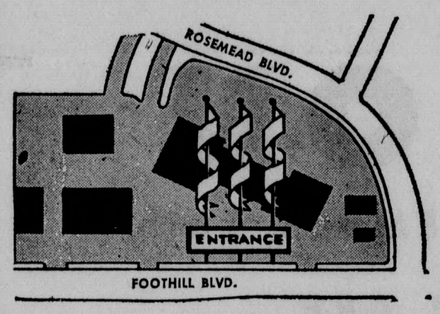

Assisting in the drive are Mrs. Myles Atlas, Mrs. Sherman Doctrow, Mrs. Edward Goldsmith, Mrs. Irving Grouse, Mrs. Erwin Kaplan, Mrs. Henry Levin, Mrs. Michael Resnick, Mrs. David Rosenzweig, Mrs. Joseph Rotter and Mrs. Louis Silberman.

ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) operates in 22 countries on five continents. In 1968, ORT students were enrolled in over 650 training units. In Europe, some 10,063; in Israel, 30,060; in North Africa, 2,287; in Iran, 2,991. Other ORT schools are in New York, South America, South Africa, and India. The number of ORT students has doubled in the past five years, and ORT has been working unceasingly to grow still further to admit the steadily increasing number of applicants. Its current world-wide enrollment is over 50,000.

Editorially.. Speaking

School Safety

The schools of Los Angeles County are opening and this newspaper is asking all parents, students and motorists to exercise extreme caution and to be aware of their individual responsibilities.

We ask motorists to be exceptionally careful when driving in residential and school areas, to be alert and prepared to stop for school buses loading or unloading passengers, to be particularly cautious when passing young bicycle riders or children playing.

Parents are reminded to warn their children not to accept rides, candy, money or presents from strangers; to make sure their children cross streets at marked crosswalks or street corners; that they walk — NOT RUN — when crossing, and that the children have proper identification at all times in the event they become last or are injured.

We offer the following set of rules:

— Ride your bicycle on the right side of the road, in single file.
— Walk yoru bicycle across all busy intersections.
— Obey all traffic laws; use proper arm signals when making turns or stopping; don't dart out from behind parked cars.
— Always look carefully in both directions before entering an intersection or making a turn.
— If you ride at dusk or later, equip your bicycle with headlights and tail lights.
— Don't clown around! You may get hurt, cause an accident, or even be killed.

A Loser's Game

In the American experience, inflation has always been associated with booming business and general good times. Those who warned that continued deficit spending and debt accumulation by government, without regard to the taxpaying ability of the people, would lead to disaster were labeled reactionaries by new-style liberals who believed that government spending could open the door to attainment of the highest human aspirations.

Now we are beginning to learn what other nations have learned throughout history — that beyond a certain point the progress of inflation is accompanied by hardship rather than good times. Economists are beginning to speak of the possibility of a recession and inflation at the same time. Time magazine summarized a lengthy list of spectacular wage settlements — settlements that range as high as a 49 per cent increase in 13 months for construction workers in one Ohio city. But far from bringing good times to workers, these dramatic wage increases are becoming increasingly illusory.

Wages are outrunning output. Says Time: "During the last three years . . . the purchasing power of the average U.S. worker has done no better than hold steady." One union official, conscious of the trend, concedes: "Every time we get a raise, the prices increase and the hospitals go up as well. Somebody should stand still. If the others stopped, I think our men would be happy to stop too." The question is, are we ready to stop following the doctrine of false liberalism that has set the stage for a "recession" with inflation.

Anything Goes?

If the current trend in literature gives one the feeling that the old musical comedy "Anything Goes" really says it, no wonder.

The recently disclosed publishing hoax involving a "dirty" book written with tongue in cheek by some 25 of our eastern newspaper colleagues, is a good case in point. The admitted fake had a remarkable sale. Early reports were well over 20,000. It attracted movie offers, and despite its voluntary exposure by the kingpin of authors — all staff members of a Long Island publication — still is finding buyers.

If that fact is a saddening commentary on the taste of the book-buying public, take heart, however. In the past few weeks, the New Testament section of the New English Bible — scheduled to appear complete next year — has sold seven million copies. The Merriam-Webster Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary (yes, some college students use reference sources other than the Berkeley Barb) has, according to reports, been selling about 3000 a day for several years.

If that isn't enough, note that among the winners in a recent university press paperback book competition now on worldwide exhibition is "Monogenetic Trematodes of Hawaiian Fishes."

Oh, no! You don't suppose THAT's a dirty book, do you?

Youth's Real Challenge

"The important thing for a young person to remember is don't stand aside. Don't be up in the bleachers when you can be down on the field. Remember that the greatness of your life is determined by the extent to which you participate in the great events of your time."

These words of President Nixon were spoken from the personal experience of forty-odd years of political life. They bear thinking about.

As the President pointed out, we can't win 'em all. "But what you will miss, if you do not get in, is something that you can never recover. It is far more important to get into a battle and fight hard for what you believe in and lose than not to fight at all . . . it is that kind of spirit that America needs, that you as young Americans can bring not only to the young community, but (to) the older ones as well."

A lot of us have moments . . . sad moments . . . . when we feel like writing off a whole generation of young people because of their attitude toward authority. Mr. Nixon, on the other hand, suggests that we should not look at our domestic problems "in terms of the threat, but in terms of the opportunity."

The real challenge of young America, he says, lies in "looking down to the end of this century. It is an exciting challenge, not a burden to be carried and whimpered about, but one to be accepted with all the excitement that we have when we meet any kind of new experience, any kind of challenge."

Sound advice, from a man who has met quite a few challenges himself, and has done pretty well.

SENSING THE NEWS

AROUND THE U. S. CAPITOL

One of the most significant developments on the national scene took place in Pittsburgh recently when construction workers staged a counter - demonstration against black militants who had persuaded city officials to halt building projects until more minority group workers had been hired. The counter-demonstrations paraded around City Hall shouting: "We are the majority."

At long last, it seems that the silent majority is finding its voice in America. During the 1960s, the majority seemed to be in retreat before the arrogant demands of a militant minority with political muscle. In the Kennedy-Johnson era, an organized minority group had only to make a protest — and federal agencies hastened to implement its will. The temper of the country is changing, however, as the Pittsburgh story indicates.

It's amazing that the country ever got away from majority rule. This is what a republican system of government is based upon — decisions made by a majority of the citizens. The ultra - liberals, which once asserted the rights of the majority (when it seemed that a majority was for Big Government), now is protesting against the system. Some liberal ideologists are trying to formulate a theory of minority rule of the United States.

Highly significant in this connection was a recent article by Prof. Herbert J. Gans in The New York Times Magazine. His article was entitled "We Won't End the Urban Crisis Until We End 'Majority Rule'." This is a curious thesis, but Prof. Gans strained to find arguments to support it. His analysis is profoundly revealing of liberal thinking at this time.

According to Prof. Gans, "majoritarian democracy" was adopted when America was a small, agrarian nation. Times have changed, he insists, and it's time, in his judgment, for something he calls "pluralistic democracy."

The Professor urged that minorities have a veto on legislation affecting them. He urged public financing of election campaigns and recommended free television time to all candidates — "even from the third, fourth or fifth parties." Under "majoritarian democracy," he said, "minorities can be tyrannized because their demands are diametrically opposed to the majority's. When this happens with a school or other institution, the minority should have the right to secede, establishing its own institution." He also wants proportional representation, which would give splinter parties a place in every legislative chamber.

What Prof. Gans proposed is a receipt for chaos. France in the 1930s had proportional representation, and it prevented maintenance of a strong government with a working majority. The communists, of course, gained a place at the governmental table, and disruption resulted.

It seems fair to say that the American people aren't about to buy Prof. Gans' proposal for "pluralistic democracy," which amounts to the tyranny of a minority. They aren't going to let dissident black power elements establish taxpayer-financed Jomo Kenyatta academies because community protesters don't like the public schools. They aren't about to require the television networks to give every kook a huge listening audience or finance the election campaigns of the lunatic fringe in American life. Finally, the American people don't seem in a mood to let a minority dictate public policy at the local or national level.

A minority group has rights — the same rights as a majority group — the rights every citizen has. A minority, however, cannot be what the ultra-liberals want it to be, namely a privileged class in America that can disrupt a city by halting garbage collections or blocking construction of private and public buildings. In Pittsburgh, for example, the construction workers have a right to work without interference by radical-led groups.

Some of the nation's politicians, who have been catering to militants in recent years, may not have gotten the word. The politicians in Pittsburgh no doubt are getting the message from the aroused workers and the majority of citizens who cheered the counter-demonstration.

American communities and great industries cannot be held up virtually at gunpoint by militant factions who threaten to plunge a community or a plant into chaos if their edicts aren't obeyed. The mapority will has to prevail in America. That's the system in a Republic: that's the way the people want it.

Out of the Cobwebs

Forty Years Ago:
September 13, 1929

Charles Hull has secured a position on the steamer City of Los Angeles, which sailed on the 6th for Honolulu.

Dr. A. P. Campbell of Red Wing, Minnesota, a graduate of the Pennsylvania University Medical School, will occupy Dr. G. S. Bovard's office at 149 West Montecito, upon his arrival in Sierra Madre. Dr. Campbell and Samuel L. Graham of 343 North Lima are old school mates, and the latter expects Dr. Campbell to arrive shortly. Mrs. Bovard and young son, Gilbert Klemme arrived home Thursday of last week after an extended visit with Dr. Bovard's parents in the middle west. Dr. Bovard is still bedfast but his condition is improving.

The editor had the privilege of inspecting two interesting looking letters this week, which were received by local people after being carried on the Graf Zeppelin from Los Angeles to Lakehurst. One was from Ira Marsh to Mrs. Mae Marsh of 41 Victoria Lane, and the other was sent by Robert H. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Green of 116 N. Baldwin to his uncle, Charles K. V. Nevin, Boston, Mass., who then mailed it back to Robert.

Miss Mattie Seeley entertained twelve of her friends at a dinner and breidge party Wednesday at her home, 453 Manzanita Avenue.

Ten Years Ago:
September 10, 1959

Excavation for the new high level reservoir above Auburn Ave. debris basin is about half finished, with completion of the entire project expected in about six months. The 1,300,000-gallon reservoir will increase Sierra Madre's water storage capacity about 30 per cent, it was estimated by city officials.

The Henry Hitt Cranes vacationed in a trailer at the beach and the William Sandburgs spent three weeks at their family home in Balboa.

The Walter Opps of Clarmeya Lane took their three children, Wendy, Marti Jo and Debbie, for vacation in Yosemite National Park.
